

GUNE

DESIGN IRATZOKI-LIZASO

Elevating the interaction between user and product, Gune is designed to expand the function of a simple form of a table top by doubling the top to allow for a lean surface when using the table. This feature works nicely in collaborative working environments where a user can store documents, tablets or phones.

It also works nicely in hospitality or corporate casual areas where users can place valuables and small to medium sized items while they are socializing. The tables come with the option of a simple column as well as an elongated version with two columns for larger surfaces. To broaden the offering, the table is also available in stool, chair and lounge heights with wood or melamine tops.

To enhance the user experience we offer, integrated electrical components for charging devices or supporting lighting and hooks for bags and backpacks.
